

Integrative Medicine Grand Rounds

presents

Is Homeopathy Evidence-Based?

Presenter:

Bernardo A. Merizalde, MD

Dr. Merizalde is a leading integrative medicine physician and a national expert on the research and clinical applications of homeopathy. He has had a general practice in integrative medicine for over 27 years, combining conventional medical care with homeopathy and other complementary therapies. He is the current president of the American Institute of Homeopathy, the oldest, extant medical society in the United States. Dr. Merizalde also is a board-certified psychiatrist and a board member of the Greater Philadelphia Society for Clinical Hypnosis.

Overall Goals and Objectives:

1. Learn the origins and development of homeopathic medicine.
2. Review the available research on homeopathy.
3. Learn common applications of homeopathic medicine.
4. Describe challenges to establishing homeopathy as an evidence-based treatment.

Jefferson Medical College of Thomas Jefferson University is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Jefferson Medical College designates this educational activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

November 9, 2007 8:00 – 9:15 am

Jefferson Alumni Hall

1020 Locust Street

Room 307

For more information, please call 215-955-3014.

