18. Please add additional comments (strengths, weaknesses, miscellaneous tips...)

This was a great rotation to gain an intro to Rheumatology. The fellows cover consults at all four NYU hospitals (Bellvue, Tisch, VA, Hospital for Joint Diseases) so students get a lot of exposure to different pathology. In addition, there are specialty clinics every day (i.e. lupus, RA/OA, pediatrics, osteoporosis) that we attend and see patients in. The fellows are really nice and you can really get as much out of the rotation as you want. My day was generally from 8-5, more hours than other “more cush” rotations, but in my opinion, worth it from an educational perspective.

THANK YOU!
