The Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University (SKMC) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. SKMC designates this live activity for a maximum of 2.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Upon completion of the program, participants will be able to:

1. Discuss published clinical data and ongoing clinical trials of PARP inhibitors and indications for use.

2. Discuss the current lymph node mapping paradigm in endometrial cancer.

3. Discuss appropriate utilization and efficacy of IP/IV chemotherapy versus IV chemotherapy in the treatment of ovarian cancer.

4. Discuss indications and rationale for the use of vaginal cuff brachytherapy in endometrial cancer, the role for external beam radiation therapy following surgery for endometrial cancer and the long term effects of those who have received pelvic radiation.

5. Identify challenges to clinical trial accrual and protocol participation.

6. Assess individual practice in light of the information and discussions during the course, and identify specific strategies to implement as part of a continuing improvement process for their practices.
